

I would like to discuss about...

Test

What are the stakeholders to talk to during such a project?

Data protection

How to make less burden to citizens with repetitive consent requests?

Are there expectations that national laws will eventually align to conform with SDGR ?

Information and complaints mechanisms for citizens - who can they go to in case of trouble?

Why do governments need to store all data/evidences in their Local environments if they can have access to sources

How could the Digital Single Gateway become even more user-centric (besides the once-only principle)?

Exchange of information between private and public sector

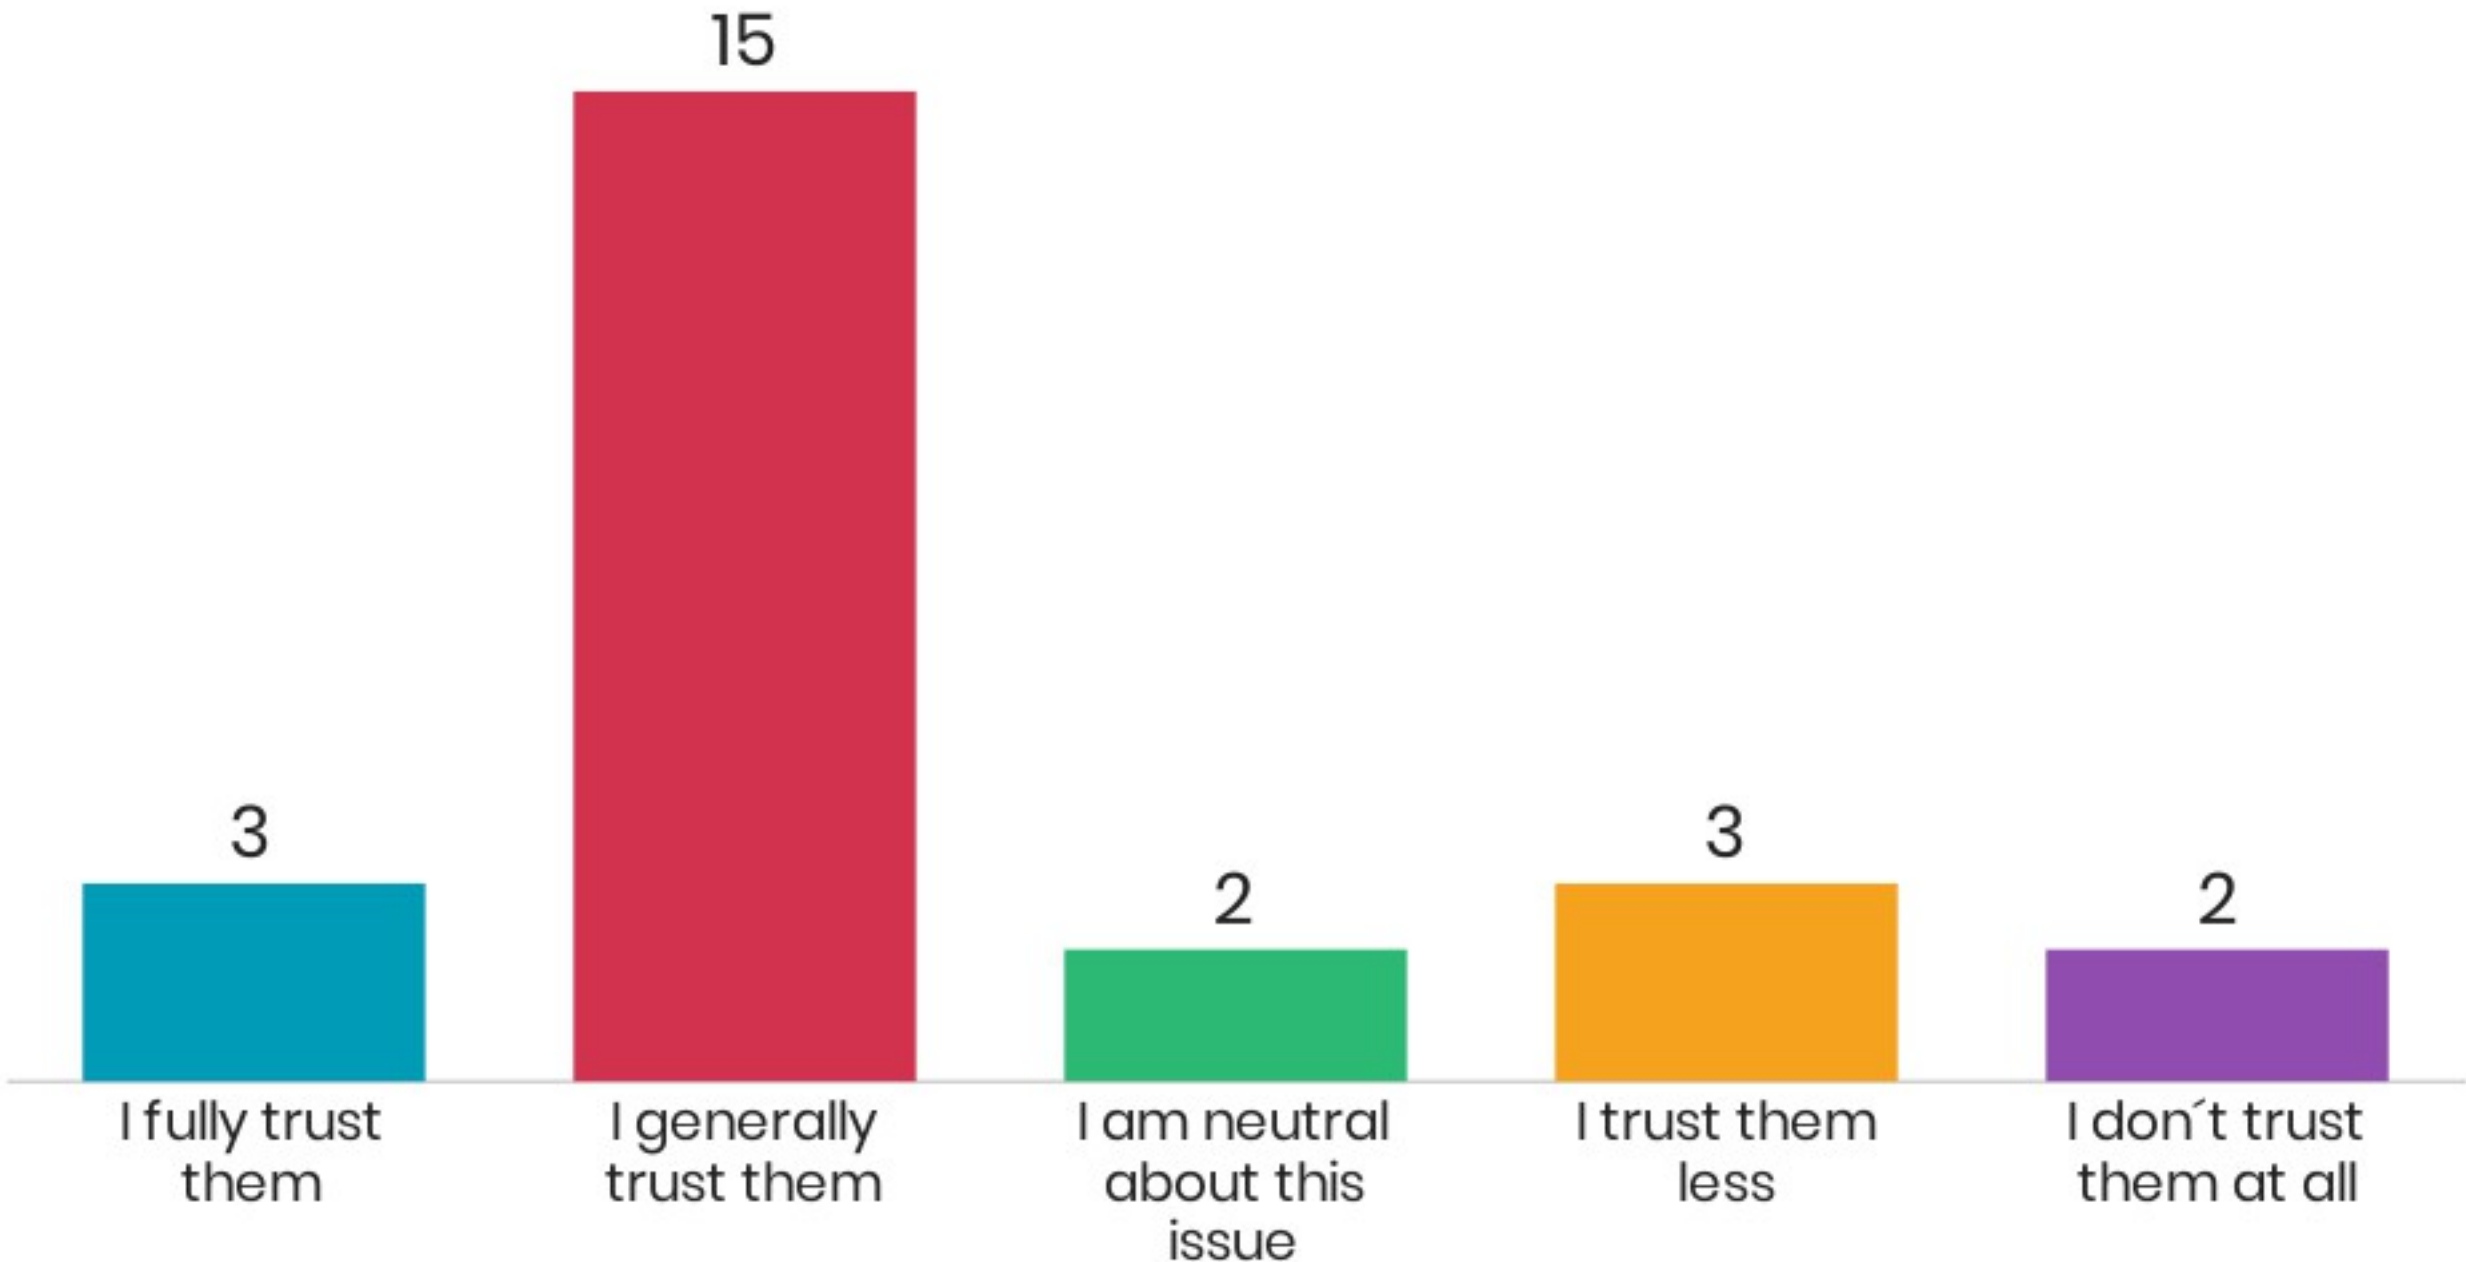

I would like to discuss about...

Can the government use American Cloud services / storage to run their applications (considering the Patriot Act and the new Cloud Act)

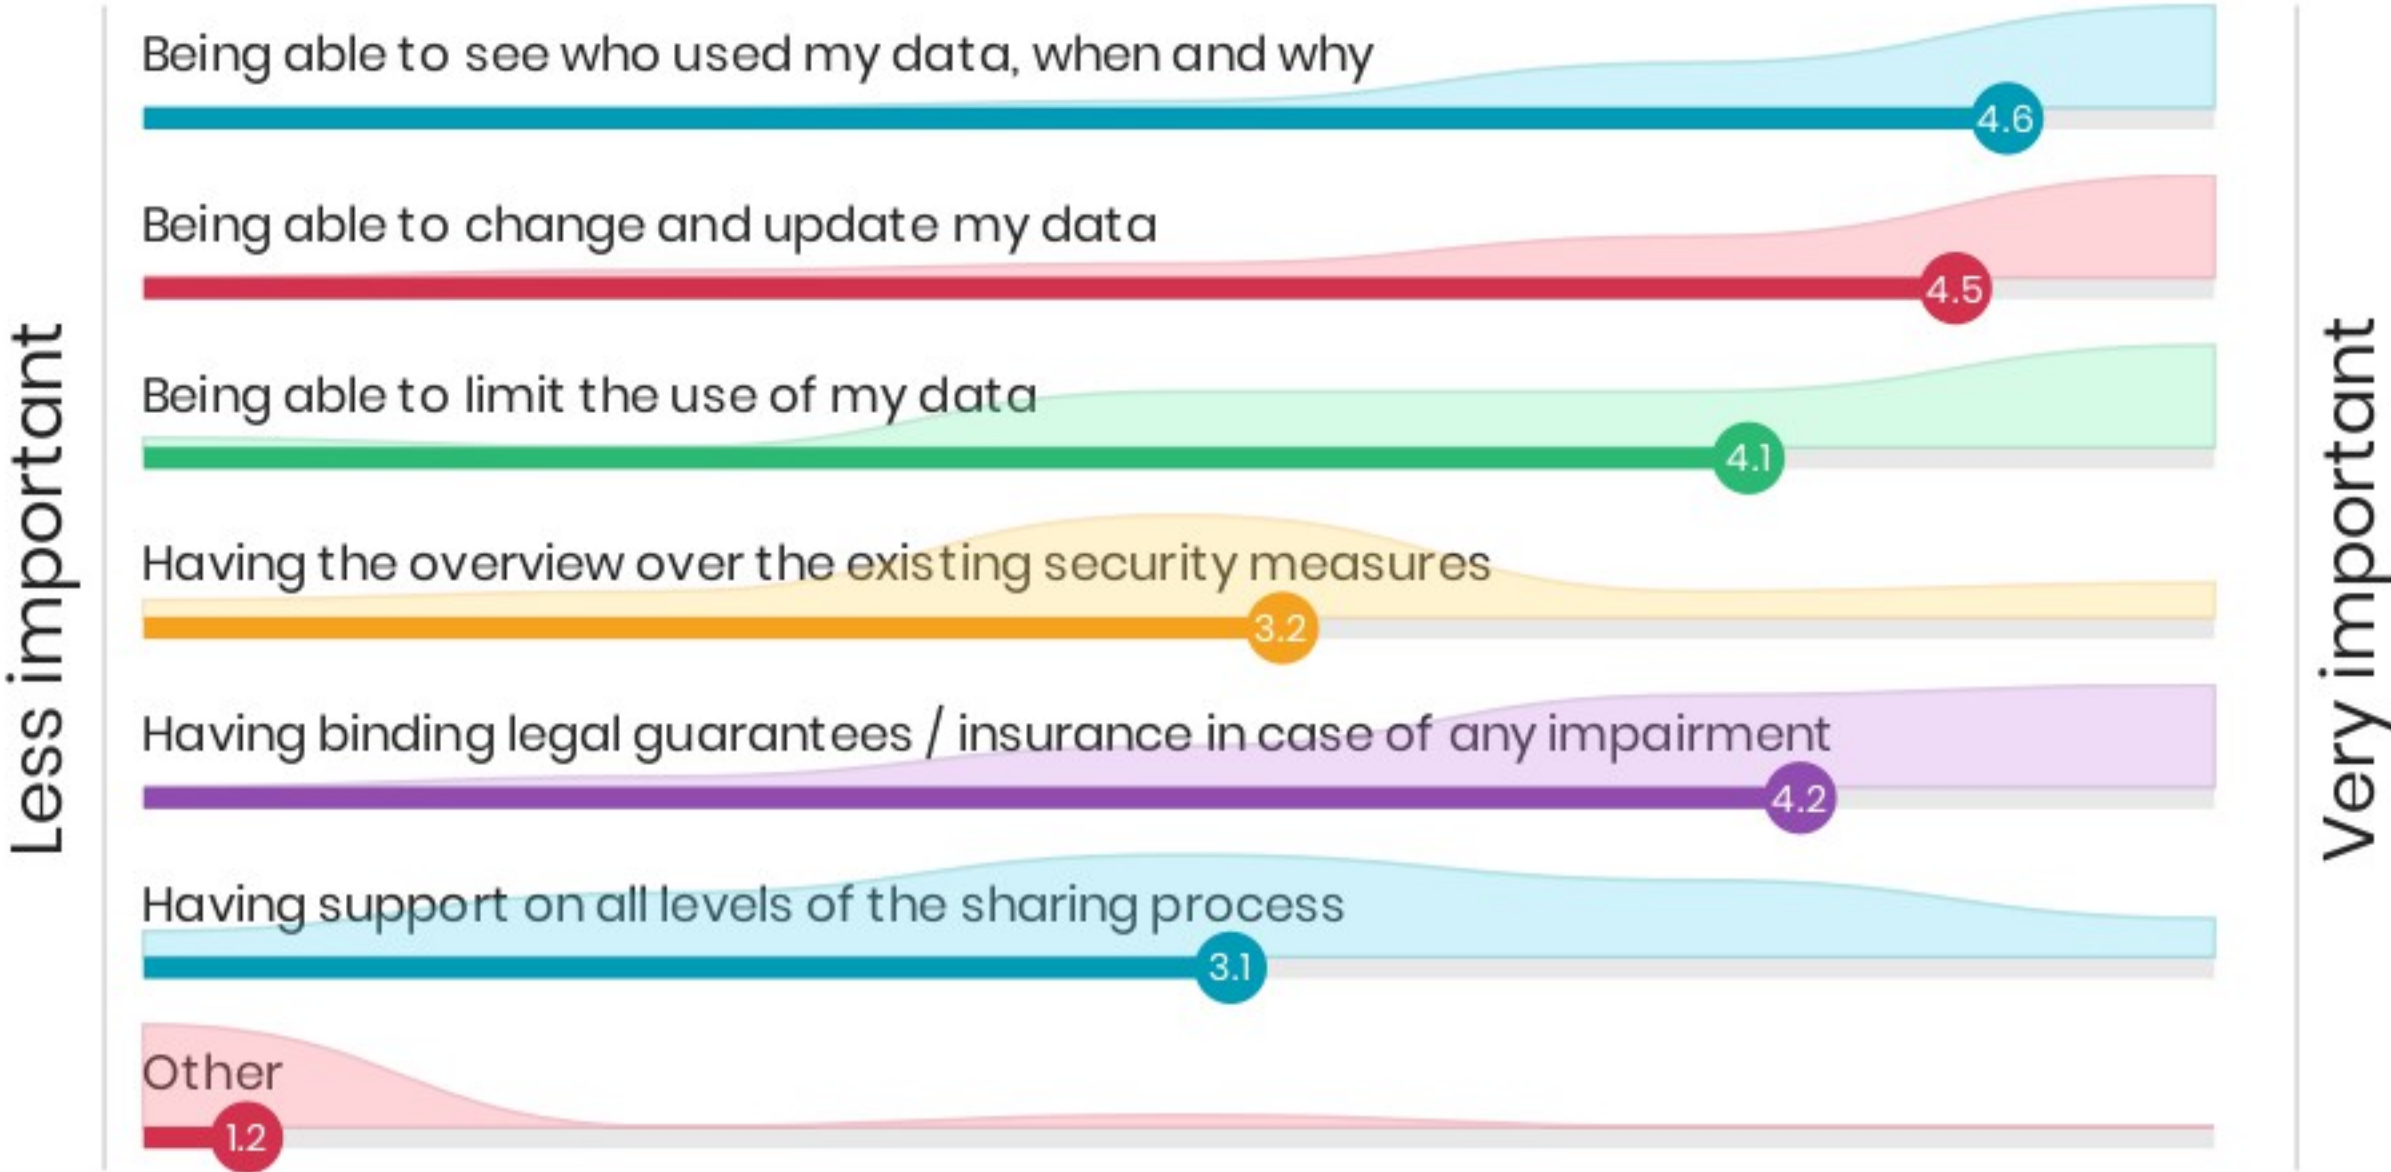

Should there be two different approaches for business and citizen data?

Does SDGR provide for deadlines for an authority to send the requested information? What if the authority never transfers the expected data?

How much do you trust the government to handle your personal data?

How important do you perceive the following measures to allow cross-border data sharing?

How could governments overcome security and data protection anxiety among citizens?