

SCOOP4C Newsletter No. 14

Dear stakeholder community,

Summer is upon us! We hope you can enjoy the good weather and join us in one of our upcoming events to discuss the once-only principle and its future roadmap of implementation in Europe.

Over the past months, we focused on data protection and privacy issues concerning citizens and the once-only principle. Through the implementation of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) which came into effect almost a month ago, we now have a legal framework protecting citizens' personal data all across Europe. This serves as an important piece of legislature for the once-only principle. We have compiled all the important information about the GDPR in an article you can find below.

What else has been happening around the once-only principle and the SCOOP4C project recently? Find out below!

Best wishes,

The SCOOP4C project team
